

Amezcu Chi Pendant FAQ

1. What is the Amezcu Chi Pendant?

The Amezcu Chi Pendant produces frequency which PROGNO tests show that it can lead to an increase in energy levels.

2. What kind of minerals are in the Amezcu Chi Pendant? How many of them?

The mineral content of the Amezcu Chi Pendant is fused together using transfer energy and nano fusion techniques which involve several high heat and frequency techniques.

3. Is there an expiry date?

No known data exists as there are no moving parts. The original samples show no sign of reduced energy or frequency since the date of manufacture three years ago.

4. What would be the effect if the Pendant stopped working?

Kinesiology tests would not work.

6. Do you have any lab test results proving that the Amezcu Chi Pendant works?

The Amezcu Chi Pendant has been evaluated and certified by the following institutions:

Evaluator	Country	Scope
Dr. med. Manfred Doepp	Germany	Energy levels in water and human body
PROGNOS, MedPrevent GmbH & Co	Germany	Positive energy field

7. How far can the energy be transferred?

Over a 500 mm circumference. The Amezcu Chi Pendant should be worn to hang on the chest area. This is why QuestNet does not supply a chain with the pendant as the length from the neck to the chest area differs from person to person.

8. Can I use it to improve sleep? How should I do it?

No. Should not be worn during sleep. The pendant should also not be worn by females during menstruation as the female hormones are over energised by the pendant at this time.
